

Based on the recent vote of the WRC this past July, I would kindly request that the "Code Test" be removed from the requirements to advance in into the high frequency bands of HAM radio. While the mode contiues to be used, it should considered an optional mode just like the digital modes. Code testing should be eliminated from the requirements currently in force.

Thank you for your time.